FACULTY OF BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS

ECONOMICS

The Economics Undergraduate Program trains highly-skilled professionals to work in private or public sectors. In the private sector, our economists will be able to dynamically interpret the effects of environmental factors, in order to optimize organizations' economic resources. This will enable them to efficiently face short- and medium-term issues from actual and financial perspectives. In the public sector, they will be able to provide viable solutions to important issues for the country's development.
